

Privacy Policy

Bremick Pty Ltd (ABN 68 000 496 131) ("Bremick" "Bremick Fasteners"), its subsidiaries and other related companies, are committed to providing you with quality service at all times. This includes protecting your privacy. This Privacy Statement tells you how Bremick manages the personal information that we collect. Also, it briefly tells you how Bremick may use and/or disclose your information and how to contact us to discuss your privacy concerns.

From 21 December 2001, we are bound by the Commonwealth Privacy Act 1988 and its National Privacy Principles. This Privacy Policy does not cover personal information collected or held by us about our employees and is to be read subject to any overriding provisions of law or contract.

Your Personal Information

Personal information is information or an opinion, in any form and whether true or not, about an individual whose identity is apparent or can reasonably be ascertained from the information or opinion.

There are further special provision which apply to the collection of some personal information which known as sensitive information. This includes health information and information about a persons' race, ethnic origin, political opinions, membership of political, professional or trade associations, religious or philosophical beliefs, sexual preferences and criminal history.

Collection of Personal Information by Us

The personal information Bremick collects, stores and manages will vary depending on what product and/or service you request from Bremick. The personal information we collect is in most cases supplied directly by you when you give us your details, place an order, seek a refund without a receipt, or provide feedback to us. It may include however:

- information provided by you when you request a product or service from Bremick. This may be by telephone, via this website or in documents such as an order form.
- information regarding your name, address, telephone numbers, e-mail address, driver's licence number, credit card details.
- information from third parties such as our related companies, credit reporting agencies or representatives.
- information kept by Bremick about your use of Bremick products and services.
- Depending on the circumstance, sometimes we collect other information such as where you shop or what your areas of interest are, so that we can improve our service offering to you.

- Bremick is committed to reducing the amount of fraud it faces. Our policy is that we will prosecute any cases of fraud which we can identify. As a first time customer, you may receive a telephone call or email requesting more information/proof to confirm the details that you have supplied to us. If any information is found to be false or misleading, we will, if we deem it appropriate, report this to the appropriate authorities for them to prosecute.

If you choose not to provide us with your personal information, we may not be able to provide you with the products or service you seek.

How your Personal Information will be used

Your personal information may be collected to enable us to:

- Deliver products or services to you
- Complete other transactions with you or on your behalf
- To gain a better understanding of your requirements and preferences
- To process your requests
- Consider applications made by you including credit worthiness
